

PUSD Sets Bond Election For May 27

The Placentia Unified School District Board of Trustees, after a long discussion in a specially-called meeting Thursday night, voted unanimously to return the $20 million school building bond issue to the public, after it lost in its search for two-thirds approval on March 4, by 66 votes.

The election is scheduled for May 27.

The disappointing tally on March 4, which came so close to success, found less than 22 per cent of the voters reporting to the polls.

The May 27 effort will be a quick attempt to add at least 67 votes to the yes ledger in an effort to stave off a collapse of the state-supported school building efforts over the 34 square mile school district.

Administrative staff at the meeting further pointed out that failure to approve the measure in the next effort, could eventually mean a raise in taxes if the board is forced to seek funding from some source other than the state supported program, which funneled in an additional $2,400,000 in state money last year.

Superintendent of Schools, John Tynes, told the board: "I would like to go on May 27 primarily for two reasons. One is we're going to need the money to build the schools and second I think we owe it to the public to let them know that under these circumstances, we will not be in the state school building program next year because we will not have the maximum bonded indebtedness required to qualify."

Tynes warned that a rejection of the bonds a second time, could eventually force a raise in the tax base.

Concerning the immediacy of the need and selecting a date for the election both Board President Jean Pappas and Trustee John Balducci advised against letting school crowding become critical before another election is called.

Balducci rejoined: "I would hate to see us hold off just to prove to people that we were right."

Tynes advised that the district is already inching into crowded conditions and that more building is on the immediate horizon.

"Shapell has 191 units they are building. We met with these people around the Baker site (an elementary school property in Placentia) and there is a whole subdivision there that is coming in which will be about as large as half the Morse (Elementary School) area.

"The only thing holding this up right now is putting in the street. That means half an elementary school right there."

"We do know that the Dominguez Ranch has cleared escrow," Tynes continued, "that's 320 acres up the canyon and plans have already been approved for the housing on this. The Yorba property is also in escrow now and Anaheim has extended La Palma which means that the cost of building in that area has gone down considerably due to the fact that the street is in."

"Some of the alternatives that we don't like to mention would be to sit and wait and we would be busing children from there in the next school year because we don't have any room at Fairmont and we'll be taking those to either Brookhaven or Golden.

"Also," Tynes added, "if you've been up Kraemer Boulevard, you have seen over 100 units there that are just finishing completion and the city has just approved another 82 units over by Lake Placentia which means that the extra classrooms at Golden are going to be absorbed rather quickly."

"There's also another 20 units that are nearly completed at the corner of Kraemer and Bastanchury. The board will have to make a decision as to where these people are going to go. They will probably go to Brookhaven, even though we might not like it, because Sierra Vista is filled."

"It's not something we're dreaming about," Tynes warned, "it's a reality."

Dr. John Mullender, Assistant Superintendent, Administrative Services advised "$20 million is what it would take to bond ourselves to capacity for five years."

"We know we're going to have to have sites. A junior high site is one of the things we've talked about. Such a site is now going to cost a million dollars," Dr. Mullender warned.

Tynes further explained that continuing to build without the bonds passing "would pyramid the taxes of the population." "We're already busing 100 kids from the Glenknoll area over to Van Buren and all the kindergarten kids from Fairmont to Orchard. So we're already in this situation now."

Total votes cast in the bond election were 3,383 for the $20 million in bonds and 1,790 against.

Have A Nice Day!

Blizzard Anticipated

Heavy snow is predicted to fall in Placentia, California on Thursday, March 27, on Mt. Kraemer (Kraemer Park) at 2 p.m. exactly.

This will be the eighth year that the Placentia Kiwanis Club and the Placentia Recreation Department have co-sponsored this annual snowfall.

Thirteen tons of snow will be placed on the gently sloping hills in Kraemer Park, and the area will be turned into a snow resort for the approximate 2,000 youngsters expected to attend. Youngsters of all ages are invited to participate with "saucer-type round sleds" and other snow-fun paraphernalia.

The Placentia Teen Council will be assisting the Placentia Recreation Department Staff with this activity. For more information, please call 993-8232.

REAL, LIVE LEPRECHAUNS may be invading the campus at Valencia High School as reports are that 60 little people have been seen coming in and out of buildings. And inside there are a lot of green things growing that have the very definite shape of the shamrock, put together with great care by small but willing hands. Before the days of St. Pat, the classroom more closely resembled the Preschool Center operated by the North Orange County Regional Occupational Program. But as everybody knows, when wee leprechauns are around, all sorts of magical things begin to happen. Leprechauns above are Mary Gerace, Stephen Tingwall, Alisa Hunter and Paul Lee, all of Placentia. Hawks In Winged Victory Seek Crown

El Dorado's Golden Hawks were shining brightly once again as they resoundingly soared over a crack Brea-Olinda Basketball team with the best Wildcat record in the school's 50 year history, to win the CIF Playoff Friday night.

The Hawks won with a score of 75 to 61, catapulting them into an exciting final CIF play coming up against Culver City.

That contest will unfold at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

It will be the third time in four years that El Dorado will represent the Orange League in the CIF-2A basketball finals. Culver City qualified with a 62-51 victory over Gahr.

Coach Nash Rivera's finest also beat El Toro in the quarterfinals with an acceptable 76-57, immediately unleashing the Hawks for the Brea fray.

The Hawk-Wildcat contest took place before 2,500 fans, jammed into the 2,200 seats of the Fullerton College gymnasium. The suspense almost became unbearable before the game began, when a referee with a flat tire failed to show up, delaying the game for 45 minutes.

As the contest was about to be called, the tardy official appeared and the game began at 8:45.

It was the third Hawk victory over Brea this season, although El Dorado had to forfeit one of the wins when a player unknowingly broke the rules regarding outside basketball play.

Little League Little Short On Sponsors

With the Placentia Little League's seventh season starting April 5, the thousand boys who have signed up to play ball still need 20 or more sponsors to make the season a reality, Don Morton, Sponsorship chairman said this week.

"Sponsorships enable us to sign up boys, who otherwise might not be able to play for financial reasons," Morton explained.

The thriving league this year expects to have 70 to 75 teams in the field and needs to have everything organized at least two weeks before the season starts, to allow for securing uniforms, getting the schedule printed and other details, Morton stated.

The total cost to a sponsor is $150 for a senior team; $125 for a major team; $125 for a minor A team and $100 for a minor B or clinic team.

Sponsors receive their name on the back of the uniform, an appreciation plaque, picture of the team, advertising in the schedule book and a trophy goes to the winning team sponsor, Morton said.

An insufficient number of sponsors would make it difficult for some youngsters to play this year, Morton emphasized.

Businesses and individuals who would like to sponsor a team can contact Morton at 524-0869.

Key Ranch Approved For National List

With the highest possible priority, the George Key Ranch of Placentia has been recommended for listing on the National Register of Historic Places, the Courier learned today.

The recommendation, tantamount to acceptance on the important national roster, was made following a hearing last Thursday by the State Historical Resources Commission at its meeting in the San Bernardino County Museum in Redlands.

Third District Orange County Supervisor, Ralph Diedrich said that not only has the famed Key Ranch been recommended by the state

You Go Through Here... The Traffic Goes Down And Around...Oh...Oh...

Amid an increasing crescendo of complaint, Placentia's undersized Post Office parking lot was in a state of flux this week as dissidents considered changing directional signs, use of driveways, right and left hand turns, striping, planter areas and where the street-side mailboxes are to stand.

It was uncertain as to whether any of it would solve the problem.

With only 24 parking stalls allowed, to service a community of more than 30,000 people, and an expected population expansion to 45,000 it appeared that the city may have outgrown the besieged parking facility before it ever was built.

Part of the problem lay within a several year time delay between when the post office was planned and when it was finally constructed.

Al Lopus, Placentia Post Master, recalls that every detail was checked by the city when the post office went through site planning but members of the Placentia City Council have suggested that "the city has no authority over the post office." They can do as they please.

Currently, no one seemed to be pleasing anybody.

With mounting public complaint growing louder, and nudged by City Council rhetoric, the post office this week was attempting to completely revamp the parking lot.

Customers, unaware of what was transpiring, were attempting to use

ONE NORTH, ONE SOUTH and one in between, as motorists further hampered by changing directional signs and a pelting rain, were simply looking for a place to park in the Placentia Post Office parking lot. But it wasn't easy as it looked, as there seemed to be very frequently, more cars than spaces to put them in. Three driveways into the 24 space lot, were also presenting motorists with Special Headache No. 24.

both sets of rules, creating a traffic snarl of impressive proportions within the small parking area.

And it seemed likely that the major overhaul would solve the principal problem...mainly too little space.

According to postal authorities, vehicular traffic now is to enter the parking lot from the south or center drives, traffic from these entries permitted to go north only. The north drive will serve as an exit only.

Cars using the center driveway may turn left only.

A confused public, used to another system, in effect a few short

Incumbents Win

In a poor voter turnout of less than 22 per cent, the three incumbents of the Placentia Unified School District were resoundingly given a vote of confidence in the March 4 tally.

Returned to their seats were Board President Jean Pappas; Vice President Dr. William Yates and Clerk Salvador Zavala.

Their votes received from a maximum of 5,209 ballots cast were 3,236 for Dr. Yates; 3,157 for Mrs. Pappas and 2,484 for Zavala.

An Anaheim slate of three contenders for the three board seats James R. Jamieson, Milfred F. Smith and Jack Manos tallied next highest in the vote tabulations.

Jamieson received 1,457 votes;

Smith 1,149 and Manos 773.

The trio, which had exerted leadership in the attempted deannexation of the Rio Vista Elementary School from PUSD into the Anaheim city school systems, also came out against the $20 million school construction bonds, which lost by 66 votes.

The winning incumbents strongly backed the bond issue, considered by them as crucial to the district.

Other candidates and their votes included Mike Shimansky of Yorba Linda, 747; and two college students, Martin Petersen, 691 and Kenneth Neidiger, 414, both from Placentia.

REELECTED TO SERVE another four years as Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District are the incumbents above, all officers of the board. Mrs. Jean Pappas, President; Salvador Zavala, Clerk and Dr. William Yates, Vice President. It will be second terms for Mrs. Pappas and Dr. Yates and the start of a nineteenth year of board service for Zavala. The board is now sponsoring a second effort to pass the $20 million in bonds, which failed by an infinitesimal number of tallies on March 4.

Fire Fighter Auxiliary On The Line

Approximately 50 people are applying for positions as Reserve Firemen for the city of Placentia, Lee Sale, Personnel Director said this week.

The city budget authorizes hiring of 31 persons, who meet the qualifications, Sale reports.

The group will be used as backup for present fire personnel, the personnel director explained and will not require additional large equipment, other than personal gear and supplies.

Tryouts and agility tests for the 50 applicants will be held Saturday, March 15 at 9:30 a.m. at Valencia High School, in the field west of Bradford Stadium. Tryouts scheduled last Saturday were postponed because of inclement weather.

Pay for the reserves is $2 an hour.

Festival Sets 1975 Dates

The eleventh annual Placentia Heritage Festival Days celebration has been scheduled for October 4 through 11, 1975, the organization's board of directors announced this week.

October 11 will be the day of the large annual parade.

No theme has yet been chosen for the annual local extravaganza.

The board indicated this week that the Festival may select the first Saturday in October as the permanent starting date for the annual outing with the exception of 1976, which may see a change to accommodate the city's larger National Bicentennial and Placentia Birthday celebrations.

the state to help establish what the youngsters call "Poppy Park," a wildflower preserve near Lancaster.

California school children raised $18,000, and combined with a matching grant from the Bank of America Foundation, purchased 72 acres of poppies and other wildflowers for the park. With only three large fields of poppies remaining, Poppy Park contains the best stand of California poppies left anywhere in the state.

State Superintendent Wilson Riles fully supported the school children, who launched a variety of projects during the school year 1973-1974 to help raise the funds. These projects included ecology-related activities such as setting up recycling centers at schools located throughout the state, and developing posters, films and songs which helped spread the word about conservation to California residents of all ages. The California State Parks Foundation is coordinating the statewide fund raising effort for the poppy fields.

A Part Of The Solution

El Teatro Espiritu de Aztlan, a theater group with headquarters in Placentia, has been recognized as the most innovative drug abuse prevention program in the state of California.

In receiving the award, the theater group also was cited as one of 11 programs in the nation which will be videotaped and used as a model for other communities interested in this method of preventing drug abuse.

Teatro was organized in September of 1972, working out of California State University, Fullerton, and reaching into neighboring communities. The group uses guerrilla theater to speak to alienated members of communities, encouraging them to improve their self-image and live a positive life.

Teatro is willing to service all existing community centers and civic organizations in Orange County, the group reports. In addition to their skills, they will train personnel from other organizations to use such theater techniques as mime, acting and psychodrama to deal with specific community problems.

Founder of the group, which is headquartered on Santa Fe Street in Placentia, is Cesar Flores.

PUSD Budget Comes In At $19½ Million

A $19½ million budget for the Placentia Unified School District 1975-76, similar in size to last year's, is so tightly constructed that without allowing for any teachers' raise, a fund of only $218,160 remains to be allocated.

Teachers, hoping for something more substantial than a 1.5 per cent raise, which that amount would allow, were invited to inspect the budget "where they work" and offer suggestions of what might be pared.

PUSD Board members and Superintendent of Schools John O. Tynes have taken strong stands on keeping all programs for the schools intact.

Teachers and other employee salaries, however, figure high in the budget, accounting for about 85 per cent of the total amount. Dr. John Mullender, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Administrative Services reported.

Board members Monday night got a look at the comprehensive several inches thick document, on its first annual outing as the First Preliminary Budget. Revisions and workshops will continue on the important figures until the final published release in July or August.

Concerns in the already sifted figures are for teachers and other employee raises, mounting school operational costs and a possible drop in Average Daily Attendance, on which the bulk of funding for school operation is based.

The Placentia District currently has the lowest tax base of any unified district in Orange County and in some cases a lower rate than Orange County elementary school districts.

The tight budget, however, does allow for fringe benefits for employees, and step increases for personnel, reflecting longer service and additional education.

A workshop will be held on the budget, Saturday, April 5 at PUSD Administration Headquarters, preceding the regular board meeting on April 14.

Disneyland Awards Touch Placentia

A $1,000 EDUCATIONAL AWARD went to the Helping Hands School in Fullerton, attended by Placentia children, as one of the 18th annual Disneyland Community Service Awards. Here the presenter is R.W. Clifford, President of Air California and receiving the plaque and award is Mrs. Jessie Ohm.

MRS. JACK CHRISTENSEN, Placentia, [left] president of the Assistance League of Anaheim, accepts a $1,000 award and plaque for her organization from Mrs. Bernardo M. Yorba of Anaheim. The presentations were made at the 18th annual Disneyland Community Service Awards Luncheon held at the Disneyland Hotel.

Disneyland's awards to deserving volunteer organizations, approached the half million dollar mark this year, with an additional $60,000 in compensation going to 43 groups considered by the judges to be the most deserving.

The congenial luncheon filled the Grand Ballroom at the Disneyland Hotel where eminent judges made presentations to representatives from the winning groups.

It was the 18th annual Disneyland Community Service Awards.

None of the five Placentia organizations that applied received funds, but the Assistance League of Anaheim, whose president is Mrs. Jack O. Christensen of Placentia, received a $1,000 award and Fullerton's Helping Hands School, which is attended by some Placentia children, received another.

The $10,000 Outstanding Award went to Orange County Teen Challenge and two $5,000 awards to Glass Mountain Inn, Inc. and Share Our Selves. There were 40 $1,000 awards made to Orange County groups.

With this year's program, Disneyland has donated $461,500 in 390 awards. Participating in the program this year were 394 groups, whose submitted applications represented over 12½ million man hours served in community projects by more than 412,487 volunteers, Disneyland reported.

Letters To The Editor

The Subject Is Collective Bargaining

By Senator George Deukmejian
Senate Minority Floor Leader
(Second in a Series)

Collective bargaining and the right to strike by public employees, if granted under proposed legislation, has some of the most far-reaching ramifications of any legislation of recent memory and perhaps in the history of the state.

Its requirements may change the entire structure of representative government by removing from elected officials some powers which will be placed in the hands of non-elected mediators or arbitrators not responsible to the public.

In addition, even the proponents admit that certain protections of public employment will be eroded by the proposed measure. In this respect, they are admitting they expect the gradual demise of the Civil Service system as we know it today, and there are clear prospects for the disappearance of the long-rooted use of tenure in our school systems.

Even the merit system of advancement, which is the very basis of the Civil Service system, faces possible death. Under the proposed bill, all members of a "unit" will be herded together and treated as a group with little or no thought given to their individual merit for advancement.

The protections of Civil Service and tenure were devices granted to public employees to give them security. Now, if collective bargaining is granted to public employees, then would it not be fair for them to relinquish the protections of Civil Service and tenure, to remain on a par with workers in the private sector?

Incumbents Win

The incumbents, also reside in Placentia.

North Orange County Community College District Trustees winning March 4 included, from area one, incumbent Flix S. LeMarinel and Wallace Hardy; area 2, Richard Noble; area 3, incumbent Robert G. Hawthorne and area 4 incumbent Mary Pat Toups.

Mrs. Jean Pappas, reelected for a second term on the PUSD Board said in a formal statement this week:

I want to express my gratitude to all the people who supported me. I'm really gratified by the support and pledge that I will continue to be available to people throughout the district who want to discuss their concerns. And I will continue to try to use my best judgement on every issue before the board.

This school district believes in community involvement and that is what the board needs from the community. We want to hear from people about their schools because we recognize the importance of their contributions and interest.

Dr. William Yates, also elected for an additional four years service in the Placentia District stated:

I want to thank the many people who endorsed my campaign in so many ways. Especially, I want to express my appreciation to the Citizens Committee and the PTAs for their heroic efforts on the Bond Drive.

Thanks to all of the people who went to the polls in this local election. This community has always been extremely supportive of education and this campaign has again proven this true.

Even though the national, state and local economic climate presented serious odds, we came extremely close to success in the bond issue.

Our commitment made to the public to wisely use their monies is our primary motive - to pursue this matter one more time, and we have scheduled an election for 27 May to place the bond issue before the public once more.

My pledge to you as a candidate is my pledge to you as a Board Member. I will be guided in all of my decisions by the philosophy that our children are the number one priority, and we will continue to do those things which are in the best interests of all of the children of this district.

We are a big business with the most precious product in the world - our children. It is with a keen pleasure that I look forward to serving you for the next four years. I will continue to seek your help in meeting our collective goals.

Salvador Zavala, who has already served 12 years on the Placentia Unified School District Board and also is a member of the board of the North Orange County Community College District, issued the following statement:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the patrons of the Placentia Unified School District for their vote of confidence on March 4th.

It is rewarding to know that the majority of the electorate decided to retain experienced individuals on the board.

We are faced with difficult problems because of the state of our economy. Please rest assured that our excellent educational programs will not be curtailed for the 1975-76 school year.

group for acceptance at the national level but that its high priority virtually assured it of acceptance.

The 2½ acre ranch, containing the heritage Key home, is located near Placentia Avenue and Bastanchury Road and contains citrus acreage along with a museum of artifacts and memorabilia collected from pioneer families by the ranch's owner George Key.

The Key Ranch was the only site in Orange County under consideration for the national roster, which lists only 330 places throughout the United States.

Members of the seven member state commission, formerly known as the California Historical Landmarks Advisory Committee, who made the recommendation are appointed by the governor. They include representatives from the fields of history, archeology and architecture.

Editor:

On behalf of the board of education of the Placentia Unified School District, I want to thank your newspaper and the many people in our community who helped to inform our electorate about the school bond measure on the March 4 ballot.

Your willingness to use your news columns to give the electorate an accurate picture of the need for the bonds and how they would be financed was invaluable and of great public service.

Our special thanks go to the Citizens School Bond Committee, headed by Al Barlow and Dr. Ralph Ruth, who spent many hours and involved many citizens in the campaign. It is encouraging to us on the board to see so many people work so hard to provide for the educational needs of our children.

We are, of course, disappointed that the measure was defeated. We realize that approval by two-thirds of the voters is extremely difficult to achieve on any issue, so we are encouraged that we missed that goal by only 1.4 percentage points.

Because such a large majority of our voters who cast ballots in the election favored the bond authorization and because the need for building funds in our district is so great, the board of education has called for another election May 27 in which the bonds will be the only school issue. We don't look forward to another hard campaign, but we do look forward to the opportunity to work with you and hope we will again gain your support.

X-Rated Film At College

Editor:

"X RATED" film at Fullerton Junior College...at least that is my opinion...which seemed to be in the minority.

Last week in my 1A English class, the film, "The Virgin and the Gypsy" was shown by the English Department, to raise money for its scholarship fund. Teachers could require their students to view the film (or any other for that matter). Something is very wrong when this type of film goes unchallenged in our public schools. At least in moviehouses there is a rating system, so those of us who don't wish to see nude simulated sex acts in public don't have to. I feel that we as students should at least have the same right, to exercise our own moral judgement, as the public does.

I am a middle aged housewife returning to college to get an education and to raise my standards, not to lower them!

Parking Route Rerouted

days before, was continuing in some cases to use all drives to go both directions.

Further, all car parking stripings will slant northward, as parking spaces have on the east side of the lot. On the west side, striping had been removed Tuesday, but new lines had not as yet been painted, with inclement weather.

Cars were parking both directions and backing into spaces when they couldn't figure out what else to do.

Planter areas are expected to be reshuffled slightly to add a space that will be lost by the restriping maneuver and the mailboxes for automobile use, now residing on Kraemer Boulevard, will be brought inside the lot and placed on the driver's side in the parking lot's northern planting area.

The Placentia City Council looking at the dilemma Tuesday night could find little right with it.

Thomas Nelson, Director of Community Development, immediately pointed out that anyone coming in the two permitted access drives, who found the parking lot loaded, would then have to figure out how to get back inside, since they would already find themselves outside its limits on one way busy Kraemer Boulevard.

From there the driver could either go around the Kraemer Boulevard, Yorba Linda Boulevard, Palm Drive, Angelina Drive, Morse Avenue and back to Kraemer Boulevard route, making a rather lengthy trek to buy a postage stamp. Or could make a U-turn southward on Kraemer Boulevard, back to the left turn lane in front of the parking lot's center entry, which would then give the driver access to 13 parking spaces again, or 12 as the case might be.

It was also mentioned in casual public conversation that if traffic worsens on Kraemer Boulevard as anticipated, it would not be at all unlikely that left turns would be prohibited at the center driveway spot, leading the driver on to Morse Avenue, where left turns are also prohibited, and then down south to Sheffield Street.

Nelson pointed out that if entry to the parking lot was at the north driveway, then the motorist could keep going around a circle through the south exit, until he was able to locate a spot to light in. Postal authorities, this week, appeared to feel uninfluenced by that suggestion.

A further city recommendation concerned placing an additional standing mail box on the Town Center side of Kraemer Boulevard, directly across from the Post Office, as there had been noted a great deal of "scampering" across the major thoroughfare just to mail a letter. A formal request for a crosswalk at this point was turned down because it could prove to be too dangerous a position.

The mailbox, however, was reportedly not incorporated into the present post office plans "because some body would have to go across the boulevard" and retrieve the mail.

Other suggestions have ranged from buying a strip of land to the north of the post office, to allow for more parking; running a driveway to the back of the post office facility, where there is a lot of parking area for employees and mail trucks or waiting until neighboring parcels of land develop in hopes they will have some extra parking space they might not be using.

Councilman Jack Gomez, acting as Mayor Tuesday night, had a couple of observations.

"We don't have this problem with our other post office in Atwood," he reported. "It's on wheels, and if there is any problem, they just move it a little bit."

And he added: "I want to be sure that I can eat a McDonald's hamburger and drop off my mail all in the same motion."

Amid the very serious discussions the Mayor Pro Tem contributed a touch of levity: "I think it would be safer just to use the Yorba Linda Post Office!" he advised.

Big Little People At Valencia

Sixty little people from 3 to 5 years of age are starting big in their education as they attend daily classes at Valencia High School in Placentia.

They are students in the Valencia Preschool which opened this month as a joint teaching project of the high school and the Regional Occupational Program (ROP).

"We provide preschool experiences for about 25 students in the morning and 35 in the afternoon at nominal rates ($2/week) for parents," explained Lorraine Shaw, teacher in charge of the operation. "We also can provide learning experiences for high school students who want to be nursery school aides."

Since she started the preschool training classes last year at another location, Ms. Shaw has placed more than 20 students ("a conservative guess") in such jobs as preschool aides, Tiny Tot program assistants and live-in child care helpers.

Students from child development and child service classes in Valencia's home economics department also work in the preschool and observe the children's behavior.

"Observation is an important part of learning about children, so the preschool is a valuable teaching tool," noted home ec teacher Betty Lawson. Her students are writing journals on individual children as an indepth study of child behavior.

Activities offered during the daily two and a half hour sessions include creative art, language development, music, perceptual motor training, outside play and experience in a "science center" where children now are growing radishes and carrots.

"Advantages are many for both the little children and the high school students," Ms. Shaw said. "High schoolers make all their own materials, including flannel boards, puppets and games, which the preschoolers enjoy. The students get to keep all their projects and are prepared to go job-hunting with their own little bags of tricks," she added.

Warning that the waiting list is long, Ms. Shaw said that parents interested in putting their preschoolers in Valencia should contract her at the high school.

Campfire Girls Slate Gala 65th Anniversary

A gala celebration marking Camp Fire Girls' 65th Birthday is being planned at La Habra Fashion Square Mall on Saturday, March 22, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Approximately 600 girls, leaders, parents, and public officials from the cities of La Habra, Brea, Fullerton, Placentia, and Yorba Linda will be participating during the day.

The mall will be decorated with individual group and city banners, a huge sign over the La Casita stage area proclaiming "65 Years of Camp Fire", and a gigantic birthday cake that sits over the fountain in the center of the mall.

A special table cloth has been made by the Yorba Linda groups, and all girls and leaders are asked to "sign-in", the sign-in will be in liquid embroidery and the table cloth will be used at District events during the year.

Commemorative tokens of the 65th Birthday Celebration will be given to all Camp Fire girls attending the event.

Special activities will start with a Grand Procession through the mall at 11:30 a.m. "Wendy the Witch", the national comic book character, will be on hand to lead the procession. Wendy became an official Camp Fire Girl this past summer in a nation-wide publication, and will be brought to life by Debbie Morrow, a Brea Horizon Club member.

The birthday cake cutting ceremony will follow at noon. Horizon Club girls, Pamela Ray who is a 10-year member of Camp Fire, and Karla McIlroy, a 7-year member, will be the official cake cutters. Both girls are from Placentia and are graduating seniors this year. They will be assisted by their advisor, Mrs. Ross Morrow, of Brea.

Alph Beta Markets of La Habra are donating the cakes, which will serve 600 girls, leaders, parents, and public officials.

Topping off the afternoon events will be a Camp Fire Girl Talent Show at 1 p.m. Talent entries include songs, dances, skits, and solos on piano, harp, flute, and clarinet. Five judges from the community of La Habra include Jean Radovich, chairman of La Habra's 50th birthday celebration; Beth Graham, mayor and city councilwoman of La Habra, Henry Addonizio, La Habra Chamber of Commerce, Diane Johnson, Miss La Habra, and Gertrude Austin, Accessory Co-ordinator for Bullocks, La Habra.

Special displays highlighting the four levels of Camp Fire are Blue Birds for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd graders; Adventure for 4th, 5th, and 6th graders; Discovery Club for 7th and 8th graders; and Horizon Club for high school age girls. There will also be a display featuring camping and outdoor progression skills. Such things as fires, knots, reflector ovens, hobo stoves, dish bags, compass and knife skills will be exhibited.

Group booth activities will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a great variety of projects. Demonstrations of macrame, shrink art, knots, wire rings, symbolgrams, potato printing, sand painting, liquid embroidery, lummi sticks, sit-up-ons, service projects and "Ojos de Dios" will be held throughout the mall area. There will also be groups working on patchwork quilts and other sewing projects for Camp Fire's annual Needlework Guild Tea held every April at the Chapman Home in Fullerton.

A poster contest based on the theme, "65 Years of Camp Fire," was held in the first part of March for all girls who will be attending the birthday celebration. Three $5 gift certificates were awarded to winners on the Blue Bird, Adventure, and Discovery Horizon club levels. The gift certificates were donated by the La Habra mall. Judging was done by members of the Soroptimists of La Habra. The posters are on display throughout the mall for the month of March.

Public officials from all five cities have been invited to the celebration. The public is also invited to come and find out what Camp Fire is and the type of activities in which the girls are involved.

Chairman for the birthday celebration is Mrs. Dick Mirko of Placentia. Committee members include Mrs. Ross Morrow, Brea; Mrs. Ken Almanzar, Yorba Linda; Mrs. Froma Reiter, Fullerton; Mrs. Tom Hall, Placentia; and Mrs. Steve Sailors, La Habra.

Talent Show chairman is Mrs. Gene Smith, Fullerton, and her committee includes Mrs. Tom Yeager, La Habra; Mrs. Maggie Prescott, Placentia; Mrs. Almanzar and Mrs. Reiter.

Special art work for the celebration was done by Steve Sailors of La Habra. Sailors is a member of the District Committee for Camp Fire Girls.

Yorba Linda and Placentia School District Junior High students have a musical treat in store for them on Tuesday, March 11. The Neoteric Saxophone Quartet will demonstrate the flexibility and sound of their instruments for special assemblies at Yorba Linda Junior High School at 11:15 a.m. and at Tuffree Junior High at 1:10 p.m.

The foursome, comprised of Gary Scudder, Dave Friedriche, Barry Street and Eric Howard, auditioned by playing classical and contemporary compositions at the February meeting of the Yorba Linda Music Arts Society. Members unanimously voted to sponsor the group to provide four junior high schools with the enriching and entertaining services of the Neoteric Quartet, upon the schools' approval.

A third school, Bernardo Yorba Junior High, will hold two assemblies for 920 students on April 8 to hear the saxophonists.

Local Youth Orchestra Opens Season

The Placentia Youth Orchestra will open its sixth season with a concert March 18, at 7:30 p.m. at Tuffree Jr. High School.

The admission is $1.00 for single tickets and $3.00 for a family ticket.

The Orchestra has maintained a superior rating in competition and plans to compete again this year.

As a group, the orchestra will attend the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra rehearsal and also plans an extensive week-end rehearsal of their own. They will have a final concert in June at which time they will present scholarships and awards to participating members. The orchestra is under the direction of William Foster.

A HEALTHY OUTLOOK will be encouraged by El Dorado speech students who will donate their time to speak on behalf of such organizations as the Heart Association, Alcohol Services Council and the American Cancer Society. Researching their subjects for their talks are (front) Nina Yaugo, Mike Sedan and in back Steve Ernst and Jean Schwartzkopf.

In and Around Yorba Linda

by Judy Goffin
Ken and Patti Westlund of Yorba Linda Travel recently returned from a week trip to Alaska. They spent a day and a night in each of the major cities. Patti said it was beautiful there. An interesting and unusual place to visit.

On March 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. in the Campus Theatre, Fullerton College, the Acappella Choir, College Choir and Rising Sound will perform in their Annual Spring Pops Concert. The Theme of the program will be "Thanks for the Memories". Donation will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children.

The Anna-Modjeska Players will present "Carousel" directed by Kent Johnson. The show will run March 14-15-16 and 21-22-23. Curtain time is 8 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays with a 2 p.m. matinee on Sundays. It will also run April 4-5-6. Group rates are available for parties of 15 or more by calling 533-5271. Many of our local Yorba Lindans are involved in the production. The theatre is located at 122 E. Emily in Anaheim.

Pam Hillings, a teacher at Esperanza, says it pays to go to college. Pam, a recent winner on the game show Blank Check just won $2,800 and $250 worth of camping gear. Pam is an English 1 and speech teacher. She will be seen this week on the show at 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

According to Mary Bette, President of Soroptimist, their recent fashion show luncheon was a very lovely success. Alta Vista Country Club presented a lovely setting and the entire event went very well.

Judy Dougal, President of the Yorba Linda Juniors was recently surprised with a birthday party in her honor at Reubens in Fullerton. Attending were friends and members of the Club.

Allergies can be caused by any of several classes of allergens. Inhalants such as pollen, dust, tobacco or train smoke, even cosmetics or perfumes may cause symptoms in the respiratory tract. Any food can cause trouble but the worst offenders include wheat, eggs, nuts, chocolate and strawberries.

Drugs and biologicals, infectious agents, and physical conditions such as heat, cold, light and pressure have been found to cause allergies. Pet fur, certain plants and flowers can also cause irritation when they contact the skin of a sensitive person.

You'll never be irritated when you depend on us. Our smooth, efficient handling of your prescriptions and ill health care needs will delight you.

Boy Scouts Can Use Aid

The Boy Scouts of America are 65 years old and are now enlisting the third generation of youngsters in the world-wide brotherhood.

In comparing his own Scouting Experience with that of his son, Canyons District Finance Chairman Pete Weisel, a Placentia resident, finds that the program is somewhat different. The differences allow for some of the more current interests of the boys but basically the goals and ideals are the same, he explains.

Estimating that it costs approximately $25 per boy per year, Weisel points out that the boy himself pays only a tiny portion of that amount with his national and local dues. The remainder comes largely from the annual sustaining membership enrollment (SME) now in progress, he states.

SME funds are used locally to help train adult leaders, to help maintain summer camps for the Scouts and day camps for the Cubs and to plan, carry out, and provide materials for advancement and achievement.

Anyone who wishes may become a sustaining member by contacting his nearest Scout Troop or Cub Pack or by calling the Orange County Council Service center at 546-4990.

BAKE OFF
What a variety of fresh "homemade" smells emanated from the 100 ranges manned (and womaned) by the finalists at the 26th Pillsbury Bake-Off in San Francisco! As a guest this year, I was able to visit with these topnotch amateur cooks while they were stirring up their creations. I especially enjoyed meeting the 22 California and Arizona finalists. The winners' recipes are always printed in many papers, but all the finalists had interesting entries. Theresa Arndt of Tustin has entered the contest all 26 years and was bubbling with excitement. Here is her pizza recipe:

CHEESE PUFF CRESCENT PIZZA
8 oz. can Refrigerated Crescent Rolls
2 cups (8 oz.) diced Swiss or Muenster cheese
1 1/2 cups (6 oz.) diced, cooked ham, pepperoni or salami
1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup French dressing
1 egg
1 teaspoon chopped parsley, if desired

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Separate crescent dough into four (4) rectangles. Place in ungreased 12-inch pizza or 13 x 9-inch pan; press over bottom and 1/2-inch up sides to form crust, sealing perforations. Sprinkle cheese and ham over crust. Blend flour, sour cream, dressing and egg; spoon evenly over ham and cheese. Sprinkle with parsley. Bake 30 to 35 minutes until golden brown. Serve immediately. Refrigerate any leftovers. 6 to 8 servings.

EVERY HOME SHOULD HAVE ONE—a home-made baking soda fire extinguisher suitable for putting out small grease fires. Here Tom Wirthy and Greg Larson show how it's done with a coffee can and baking soda.

The Fire You Quench May Be Your Own

Placentia Fire Chief Jim Sims warned today that the use of water on a grease or electrical fire could be dangerous and that most class B & C commercial fire extinguishers contain baking soda as the principal extinguishing agent.

Sims suggests that each home be equipped with a fire extinguisher suitable for small grease or electrical fires. Many people make their own extinguishers out of an empty coffee can. The coffee can extinguishers have been credited with stopping over two hundred fires in Orange County in the past few years. The Placentia Fire Department has complete instructions available for those persons interested in making their own extinguishers. Often times Scout groups make them as safety projects.

The most important thing in extinguishing a small grease fire is not being injured. Upon discovery, the housewife should decide first if she can extinguish it safely. The procedure is to first turn off the gas or electricity and then to place a lid on the pan or apply the extinguishing agent to the base of the flames. The Fire Department should be called in all instances to check the surrounding area for extension of the fire.

Aldo Marchetti, President of Olmarc Packaging Company, is opening the Olmarc Packaging of California, Inc. operation in Placentia.

The Placentia facility is located at 190 W. Crowther Avenue and occupies a space of 40,000 sq. feet.

Present employment projections for the Placentia operation is in excess of 100 employees, making Olmarc one of the largest employers within the City. Eventually the company expects to employ 300.

The Placentia facility is engaged in the blending and packaging of food products, and has a full-line operation with Quality Control Lab.

Olmarc was established in 1966, and the parent company is located in Northfield, Illinois.

Marchetti stated that the present Placentia plant is only the beginning and he anticipates future growth. He said also that the Placentia location was chosen over other sites because of its location with freeway and rail access, labor supply, and the assistance and attitude of cooperation given by the City of Placentia.

Bob Bass To Face State Competition

By Mark Tronske

Last week I had the opportunity to interview Esperanza High School's top wrestler, Bob Bass. Bass recently captured top honors in the 191-pound class at the C.I.F. Southern Section Finals held at Fountain Valley High School. He advances to the state finals at Bakersfield on March 14-15.

When I asked Bob how he first became interested in wrestling, he replied, "When I was playing football at Valencia during my sophomore year my coach suggested that I try out for the wrestling team." Bob took the coach's advice and made the wrestling team at his new school, Esperanza.

During Bass' first season as a wrestler he performed remarkably. Influenced a great deal by Coach Stout, who is the varsity wrestling coach, Bass went on the Southern Section Finals, where he eventually was defeated. This year was a different story, as Bass whipped every opponent he faced. His overall record is 21 wins, 1 loss, and no draws. His only loss came in league play against El Dorado's Greg Johnson.

I asked Bass if he plans to attend college. He indicated that he plans to do so, but does not have any specific college in mind at this time. He would like to continue playing football and wrestling on the college level. Cypress, Claremont, and Cal Poly Pomona are among the colleges he has talked with. He's not sure what he'll do after college.

Wrestling has not been a very popular sport at the high school level, but Bass says it is becoming more popular than it used to be, but still ranks far below basketball or football.

He feels that the sport will gain popularity when it gets more coverage from the news media. "Fake wrestling"—like the stuff on local TV is what has really given wrestling a bad image. People think wrestlers can easily get hurt. This isn't true—there are very few injuries at the high school level.

Although Bob Bass is a very good wrestler, he said that he prefers to play football. Although wrestling is not even his favorite sport, Bass is one of the top 24 wrestlers in his weight class in the entire state of California!

Hose Best Fire Help

What is the best Fire Extinguisher for your home? This is a common question asked by many people, according to Fire Chief Jim Sims.

There are many types and sizes of Fire Extinguishers, the chief points out and fortunately, almost everyone already has the best fire extinguisher he or she can buy...the garden hose.

Chief Sims noted that garden hoses are used to extinguish more fires than any other type of fire extinguisher. Often our fire engines arrive at a reported fire to find the homeowner has extinguished the fire while the firemen were responding. Sims suggests that every home have a garden hose pre-connected near the front door for possible use on small fires.

He noted, however, that electrical and flammable liquid fires should not be attacked with water and that homes should also be equipped with dry chemical extinguishers.

People, Places And Things

BY JUDY BRANSTAD

AN EVENING WITH POE

Edgar Allan Poe, master of the macabre, was brought back to life on stage in the person of Thomas Maddox Vize, at the Playhouse in Orange recently. "The Haunted Palace...A Visit with Edgar Allan Poe", was the title of the one-man show sponsored by the Pacific Academy for the Performing Arts.

Vize is a performer with many distinguishing credits in stage, television, and motion pictures and has done lectures and concert readings. In 1939, Vize joined the company of "Our Town" and was a member of the original cast of "The Man Who Came to Dinner", featuring Monty Woolley. He has a Master's Degree in language arts and was director for the Arts Council of Great Britain. Vize has also served as resident director of Drama and instructor of speech at Loyola University, Los Angeles. Over the years the performer has appeared on more than 150 television programs.

As the audience listened to organ music and waited for the performance to commence, a door slammed in the rear of the auditorium, causing everyone to turn their heads. It was Vize, or shall I say Poe, making an uncommon entrance to keynote an uncommon evening in the theater. Chatting with the audience as he made his way down the aisle, a rapport was beginning to form between the actor and his listeners. Dressed in a gentleman's attire of the late 19th century, Vize proceeded to transport the mind and mood of all those present back in time.

Once on stage, Mr. Poe recited a selection of his works including, "Conver-sation", "plot - A Definition", "Philosophy of Furniture", intermingled with his personal opinions and criticisms of fellow contemporary writers, such as Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Short stories were read on either side of the front of the stage in a spotlight and were supplemented from time to time by background music or recorded sound effects.

Instead of watching celluloid figures, it is refreshing to spend an evening with live performers, and the Playhouse in Orange is offering this to all of us at modest prices. It is a good change of pace for adults, and it is a good introduction for the young to live theater.

Students Make Emblem

Principal Dennis Streng of the Barbara Sterling School of Garden Grove recently presented a natural art collage to Placentia Police Chief Norm Traub. The students at the school devoted several weeks of their time creating the art work which reflects the school's appreciation of the Placentia Police Department for its educational and community service programs.

Assisting Principal Streng, who is also a Reserve Police Officer with the City of Placentia, in making the presentation was Jeanette Bello, Speech Pathologist, and students Don Mitani and Paul Walker.

Chief Traub said that the work of art would be displayed in a prominent place in the Police Department. He also expressed his appreciation and said that the Department is honored by the presentation.

Mon Ami Honors Birthday

The seventh year for Mon Ami Auxiliary of Children's Home Society will be celebrated during their meeting Monday evening (March 17), at the home of Mrs. Vincent Scallan.

Mon Ami received its charter in 1968 to join 242 auxiliaries in the state supporting CHS by telling the community about services available and raising funds to provide them. Mrs. Richard Jensen is president of the Placentia-Yorba Linda group.

A new movie made by Children's Home Society, "Growing Up Together", telling the true stories of four teenage unwed mothers who decided to raise their children alone and what happens to them will be shown during the meeting.

Movies and programs are available to organizations and schools by contacting Mrs. Richard Allen, Interpretation Chairman of Mon Ami. She reports that the movie, "I'm Seventeen" was recently shown at El Dorado High School.

Mon Ami members are preparing their second edition of the popular Potpourri Cookbook with Mrs. Aaron McGuire as chairman.

Plans are being made to honor Angel, Patroness and Associate members during a luncheon boutique on Saturday, April 19. Membership chairman is Mrs. Robert Arietta; Ways and Means, Mrs. Joseph Kozlowski; and Mrs. David Small is boutique chairman.

Miss YL On Television

Who could have missed Miss Yorba Linda, Miss Karen Horn, on Channel 7 "Eye Witness News" - (California People) - between 5 and 6 p.m. on Monday, March 10?

The TV cameras were clicking this past Wednesday for about an hour and a half taking pictures of our local gal! Geoff Smith was the cameraman.

"This outstanding recognition of Karen's amazing talent and good looks is another major stepping-stone in the long and difficult climb up the ladder to the peak of things for our young lady."

"The fact that she adds this very impressive TV time to her list of top public appearances augers well for Miss Horn...and what we all hope will be victory for her in the big contests which lie ahead...all the way to the top at Atlantic City for the Miss America crown!", says Mrs. Anne McGrory, Yorba Linda Chamber Corporate Secretary and Executive Manager, Bill Opdyke. "We're all rooting for Karen Horn!"

COMMUNITY NEWS

Schools Enjoy Music Week

There is music in the air throughout the Placentia Unified School District this week as children celebrate the first national Music In Our Schools observance.

Highlighting the week are choral concerts Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings featuring elementary, junior high and high school choruses, according to William Foster, district coordinator of music. All three concerts will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Valencia High School Auditorium, 500 N. Bradford Avenue, Placentia.

The Tuesday concert featured the 288-voice combined elementary choir of fifth and sixth graders from Brookhaven, Golden, Sierra Vista and Wagner schools. Directors are Linda Russo, Jeanette Schwartzkopf and Susan Sparks.

Tuffree Junior High School's 74-member choral group directed by Nancy Koshak also were on the program, followed by the El Dorado High School 18-member vocal ensemble and 60-member concert choir directed by Dwight Fichtner. All choirs joined in a musical finale.

A 205-voice elementary choir from McFadden, Morse and Topaz schools directed by Judy Mahoney and Susan Sparks will sing at the Wednesday concert. The Kraemer Junior High choir directed by Yvonne Crane will be featured, followed by the 21-member chamber singers and the 42-voice concert choir directed by Mary Lou Dunn from Valencia High School. The combined finale will be "America, Our Heritage."

Thursday night's program will include 270 voices from Fairmont, Glenknoll, Orchard and Van Buren elementary schools directed by Sally Gittings and Sharon Naismith. The 70-member Yorba Junior High choir directed by Carol Reynolds will sing, followed by the Esperanza High chamber singers and concert choir under the leadership of Dwain Miller.

The public is invited to attend all the programs free of charge.

All instrumental music classes throughout the district also are open all week, and parents have received personal letters inviting them to attend their children's classes, Foster said.

A special program is planned for 1 p.m. Thursday, which is Music In Our Schools Day, at Rio Vista Elementary School, 310 N. Rio Vista St., Anaheim. Music specialist Kathy DeJarnett has been working with kindergarten through third graders on a program which they will compose and perform.

Students will perform interpretative dances and original choral works to illustrate classic music and art, according to Principal Sally Morton.

Students in the program are Jennifer Gibson, Kath-

Junior High Schools Band Together

Approximately 500 young musicians from four junior high schools will participate in an invitational music festival in the auditorium at Valencia High School in Placentia from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Friday, March 14.

Host for the event will be Bernardo Yorba Junior High for the Placentia Unified School District. Director Gary Wiedeman will enter his 92-piece advanced band and 60-piece orchestra.

The Tuffree Junior High band and orchestra directed by Nile Gooch also will represent the Placentia district. Other participants will come from Brea Junior High and Fountain Valley Junior High.

Each instrumental group will perform, and an adjudicator will give critical comments.

Students Hope To Help

Speech students at El Dorado High School in Placentia are using their skills to speak out for community education programs in pilot projects sponsored by the Orange County Heart Association and Alcohol Services Council.

The young people are participating in training sessions conducted by the organizations to prepare themselves for speeches to fellow students and community groups, explained Cassandra Evans, the speech teacher who organizes the volunteer speakers bureau.

Four students also are attending orientation sessions with the American Cancer Society in an extension of that student speakers program to speech students.

"Our first projects will be cross-age teaching where our speakers work with elementary and junior high students," Miss Evans said. "They also will be available to speak in high school classes throughout the district."

Participants in the Heart Association program are Sandy Elton, Steve Ernst, Jean Schwartzkopf, Mike Sedan and Nancy Williams. Speakers for the Alcohol Services Council of Garden

Grove are Greg Carter, Jeff Crook, Glen Gentilin, Mike Parks, Robin Tillery and Craig Vreeland.

Speaking for the Cancer Society are Carol Mastrianni, Cindy Troy, Gail Turner and Jill Yarter. Carol and Gail are taking special training in the detection of breast cancer.

In addition, Diane Christensen and Julia Jewel are using their talents in puppetry and storytelling to entertain at Children's Hospital in Orange.

"The students are very enthusiastic about being able to use their skills in a useful way," Miss Evans said. "We're proud to have such qualified speakers to perform this community service."

El Dorado In Final Test

BY BRIAN HILDERBRAND

For the third time in four years, the El Dorado Golden Hawks will represent the Orange League in the CIF-AA Basketball Finals at the Los Angeles Sports Arena this Saturday.

The Hawks will meet Culver City, 62-51 victor over Gahr High School.

The 15-man powerhouse will take their fastbreak and their all-important press to the Sports Arena with game time at 3 p.m.

If Kevin Heenan's shooting is hot, Tyrone Branyan's rebounding is up to par, and the team's morale is up, the Hawks should take the Championship for the second year behind the admirable coaching of Nash Rivera.

To attain this honor, El Dorado had to knock off El Toro in the quarterfinals, and their league rivals, Brea-Orinda in the semifinals. The scores were 76-57, and 75-61, respectively.

Many believed that the game with Brea Friday night would determine the CIF champ, as the two teams are assumed to be the two best teams in all of CIF. The game would have made an excellent CIF Final game.

The gym at Fullerton Junior College was jam-packed, with 2,500 fans locked into the 2,200 seat arena. That was capped by a 45 minute delay as one of the referees suffered a flat tire on the freeway.

Brea principal, Gary Goff, was responded to with boos from both Brea and ED fans (the only time the whole night when they were in agreement), when he suggested that the game be postponed until the next night if the official did not show in five minutes. Luckily, the referee, Simon Peters, arrived, and the game got underway at 8:45 p.m.

El Dorado trailed by one point at the end of the first period, 18-19. Brea's Barry Weston picked up 15 of his team's points in the first period.

Rory Lovell, a junior varsity player during the regular season, was put in for Mike Sedan when Sedan got into foul trouble. Lovell put alot of pressure on Weston and kept him from scoring as many points in the next period.

Brea still held the lead with four minutes left until halftime, 27-21, but the Hawks soon pulled ahead, 29-27 on Tyrone Branyan's jump shot with two minutes left in the half.

Then Brea got the ball and scored a basket and one point on a free throw, but the Hawks still had the lead. Kevin Heenan got the ball and with six seconds in the half, shot a 20-footer to take a 33-30 at the end of the half.

With the help of Lovell and Branyan, on a pair of three-point plays, the Hawks pulled out to a 45-40 lead at the beginning of the final period.

Lovell helped the Hawks out in the final period with two scores in the first 30 seconds, as the Hawks picked up their biggest lead a couple of minutes later, 57-46. Then the Hawks took a 13-point lead on a lay-up by Blake Withers. It looked like the game was in the bag, but Brea was not willing to accept that.

With a minute-and-a-half left to play, Brea pulled up to within five points, 66-61 but the Hawks quickly scored nine consecutive points, the last of the game, to win it: 75-61.

Leading scorers for ED were Kevin Heenan, 21 points; Tyrone Branyan, 20; Blake Withers, 14; and Rory Lovell with 11 points. Mike Sedan put in four points, Bob Laughland and Eric Sherbeck added three and two points, respectively.

Tyrone Branyan controlled the boards with 11 rebounds, and both Heenan and Sherbeck brought down five.

El Dorado was 24 for 55 off the floor and 27 for 31 from the line.

The victory was ED's third this season over Brea, although the Hawks had to forfeit one of those wins. Brea finishes this season with a 20-8 record, the best record the Wildcats have turned in during the school's 50 year history.

Wednesday, March 12, 1975 Star-Courier--Page 13

The quarterfinal game, which was played at El Toro, was a game in which the Hawks shot 68 per cent, and Kevin Heenan made only eight of his attempted 24 shots. Heenan, though coming up with 18 points, has been averaging 30.1 points in the first two CIF Playoff games.

The game was alot closer than the score states, with the Hawks leading by only four, 18-14, at the end of the first period. By the end of the second period, ED still maintained the lead by only four points, 29-25.

Coming back from intermission, the Hawks blew the game wide open. El Dorado was 33 for 61 from the floor, and 10 for 14 off the line. El Toro was 23 for 68 from the floor, and 11 for 20 off the line.

Leading the scoring attack for the Hawks was Withers with 23 points. Heenan put in 18. Branyan had 16, and Mike Sedan added 15 points.

Adaptive PE Has New Home

Adaptive physical education at El Dorado High School in Placentia is getting a new look as staff and students ready a surplus military hut to house the program.

The adaptive P.E. program, which has been available in the Placentia Unified School District for the past three years, is designed to give students with physical, visual and cardiovascular handicaps an opportunity to participate in physical education activities. Approximately 40 students take the special classes at El Dorado. "Each student has a program designed especially for him, taking into account his interests, abilities and limitations," explained Steve Leavitt, adaptive P.E. teacher. "Information is obtained from each student's doctor about what can not be done, what activities should be stressed to help the student and the level of activity that is best for the student."

Some students are able to participate in such strenuous activities as weight lifting, running and tennis, while others must restrict themselves to walking and playing cards.

"When the hut became available on campus, we were anxious to have a place especially for the adaptive P.E. program," Leavitt said. In addition, principal Jerry Jertberg and athletic director Bill Clark budgeted some funds for a rowing machine, treadmill, bicycle, weights, ping-pong table and punching bag. Football coach Glen Hastings also donated a pool table.

Students and staff currently are planning a school-wide ping-pong tournament, in which adaptive students will participate while running the event.

Students Hold Track Meet

The Placentia Unified School District relays with competition between the three high schools of Esperanza, El Dorado and Valencia are scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 19.

The meet will be held at Bradford Stadium at Valencia High School.

Competition will include both boys and girls, Coach Leon Simmons, Head Track Coach at Esperanza stated.

Also competing will be students from three junior high schools, Bernardo Yorba, Tuffree and Yorba Linda Junior High Schools.

Other events in the relays will challenge both fifth and sixth grade students from all the elementary schools in the Placentia District, Simmons said.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 25 cents for students. The meet is expected to run around 3 hours.

Aztec Boosters To Meet

The Esperanza Aztec Marching Band and Drill Team Boosters Club will hold their general meeting Tuesday March 18, at 7:45 p.m. in the Teachers' Lounge at Esperanza High School.

At the last meeting Vernie Ford from Fullerton Union High School explained how bands and drill teams are judged in parades. A "dime-a-dip" dinner was attended by more than 100. The Pep Band furnished the entertainment.

More participation with new ideas is needed, as Esperanza is a new school, and needs fund-raisers to further their prestige in the programs ahead.

Memberships are only $5.00 per family. All board members are looking for a good turnout at the next meeting, Tuesday, March 18, at 7:45.

Bill Boyd Chosen Officer

Bill Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Boyd of Placentia, has been elected treasurer of the University of Southern California's Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA) an organization which provides students interested in public relations a realistic picture of the profession.

Boyd, a senior public relations major at USC, will serve in office until January, 1976. During this time, he will report to PRSSA members on the financial status and holdings of the organization, and will implement a fund raising drive to make more money available for expansion of PRSSA programs.

Boyd, a senior public relations major at USC, will serve in office until January, 1976. During this time, he will report to PRSSA members on the financial status and holdings of the organization, and will implement a fund raising drive to make more money available for expansion of PRSSA programs. Boys is developing this project in hopes that the USC chapter of PRSSA, the largest in America; will gain further recognition in its efforts in public relations. He believes that it is the duty of the treasurer to be a money maker for the organization as well as a money holder.

He is also involved in promoting the USC Songfest, the all-university musicale, and is a forward on USC's varsity basketball team. Although sidelined this season because of an injury, he has received the John Rudometkin 110 percent Effort Award for the past two years in recognition of his value to the team.

Boyd was elected student body vice-president while attending Foothill High School and was elected to the same office again while attending Crescenta Valley High School from which he graduated in 1971. He augmented his high school career further by making the all-American basketball team for two years.

Boyd will graduate from USC with both a bachelor of arts degree and a master of arts degree in public relations in June, 1976.

The anthem, "Little Grey Donkey", will be sung by the Carol Choir and "Rejoice and Sing" by the Chalice Choir, the church said.

"The lessons are part of our expanded program to offer a greater variety of recreational and educational activities at the new club," Perrott said. "This is an excellent opportunity for boys 7 to 18 to join a respected national youth organization and improve their musical talents at the same time."

Lessons are conducted by guitarist Adrian De Los Reyes each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 4:30 p.m. at the Boy's Club, 132 E. Crowther Street, Placentia.

My wife likes to compare the City Council of Placentia to the little boy who fell in the muddy ditch and wherever he goes he leaves a messy trail. Now a kid who falls in a ditch is many times a great kid; really lovable but he just can't stay out of trouble. The City Council is a lot like that. Their most recent problems consist of labor relations, soaring legal fees, high electric bills and a hunger for land that is unexplainable.

Last month the Placentia Fire Department employees asked the City of Placentia to study contracting fire services from the County. In other words, "our local firemen would rather work for the County of Orange than for the City of Placentia. I feel a lot of sympathy for them.

About two years ago the City adopted a new 8 hour a day system for all the Fire Department employees. Firefighters hated the new system to the extent that an estimated 75 per cent resigned and the rest are fighting the City in Court.

Since then, our City Council has O.K.'d payment of over $70,000 in legal fees and expenses to fight the spirited firefighters in court. What a waste! After all, what do the firemen really want? They just want to operate as the majority of Fire Departments do across the country.

It seems to me that the time has come for our City Council to take another good hard look at the Fire Department situation and consider a return to the old tried and proven system. If 75% of my employees resigned I'd have to take another look at my operation or be out of business. I think this holds true for most businesses.

You know if the Public Employee Collective Bargaining and right to strike bill in the California Legislature is passed, the handwriting will be on the wall. Whether we like it or not, the firemen will win out on this issue of which system to use.

Frankly, I don't think we should wait for that to happen. Surely the Fire Department personnel would be reasonable in other negotiations, including dropping the lawsuit, if they won the major concession of returning to the old and proven system. It seems to me our City Council has an opportunity to show real leadership in this difficult area.

The amazing part of this Fire Department scene is that the League of Cities actually presented City Manager Ed Powell with an award for his innovative work in instituting the new system in Placentia. I don't think it's the kind of an award that the taxpayers would give him, if they had the opportunity.

Electric Bills
The least of the City's problems are the high electric bills. In December the bill for the whole Civic Center Complex was $4,363 in January it was $4,236 for 30 days. The fancy fountains that operate almost continuously must add a lot to the bill. The price of beauty is high and so is the energy to run it.
